FISCAL YEAR 2022 - 23

Child Care Resource & Referral (R&R) Agencies' Impact in California

FY 2022-23

Child care resource and referral agencies (R&Rs) are state-funded, community-based programs present in every county throughout California. Serving as reliable hubs for child care resources and information, R&Rs offer workshops, trainings, child care referrals, resources, and technical assistance tailored to meet the comprehensive needs of both parents and providers in the community, all provided at no cost to them. The R&R Impact Project quantifies the importance of R&Rs within their communities by highlighting the range of activities and services they deliver and assessing the positive outcomes experienced by parents and providers alike. 22 out of 69 R&Rs and 22 out of 58 counties participated in the R&R Impact Project this fiscal year. ⁱ

In fiscal year 2022-23, participating resource & referral agencies...

- Provided families 226,983 child care referral and planning servicesⁱⁱ, including 27,682 enhanced referralsⁱⁱⁱ
- Provided community/internal referrals to 42,902 parents and 61,273 child care providers

Of the parents surveyed...

i. Some agencies submitted data for less than 4 quarters.

ii. Some referral data is from the CD2504 R&R Services Data report.

iii. Enhanced child care referrals are more time-intensive and customized. Examples: finding child care for children in the foster care system, open child protective service cases, children experiencing homelessness, or those with special needs.

iv. n = refers to sample size

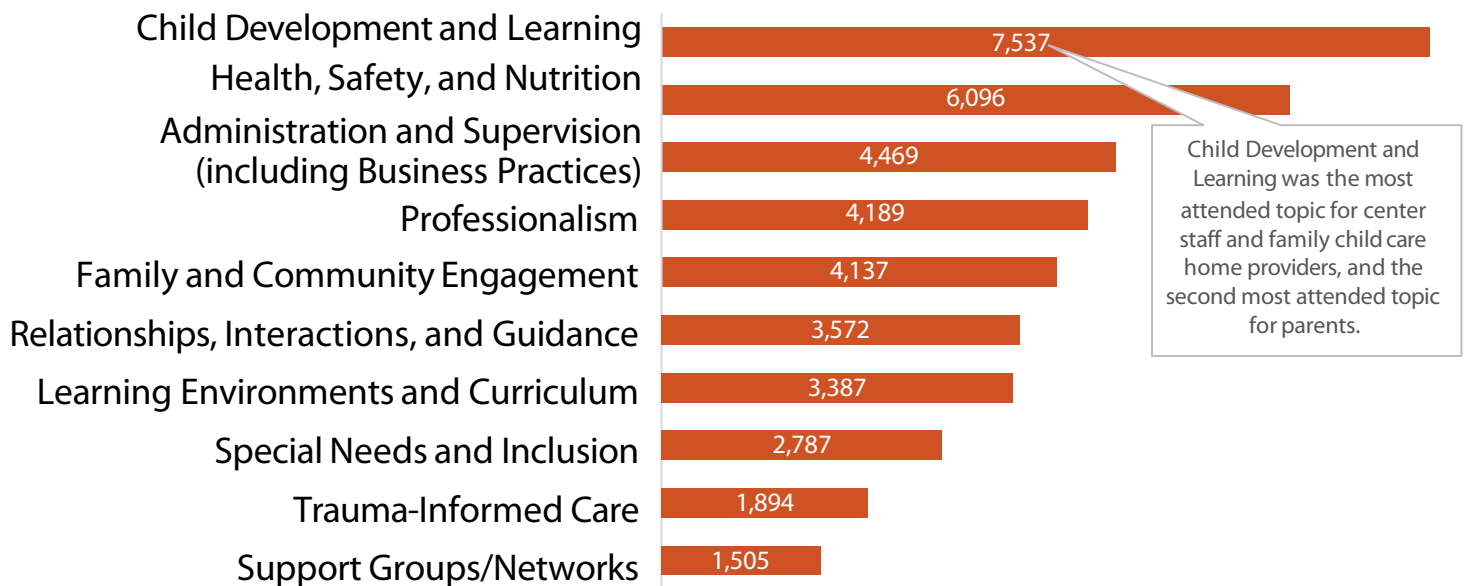

Group Trainings and Workshops

R&Rs are a centralized resource in the child care infrastructure, sharing valuable information and guidance to parents and providers in the community. In addition to relevant content knowledge, trainings and workshops allow opportunities for connecting and relationship building. Trainings and workshops covered 15 topics including all 12 Early Childhood and Education (ECE) competencies.

Participating resource and referral agencies offered trainings and workshops to 4,367 parents and 27,726 providersi...

Parents

Key Findings: Parents

- Parents attended the Family and Community Engagement topic most; this topic underlies the importance of provider, parent and community collaboration on the child's overall well-being and success.

License- Exempt or Pre-Licensed Providers

Key Findings: License-Exempt or Pre-Licensed Providers

- License-exempt providers or pre-licensed providers attended the Administration and Supervision (including Business Practices) topic the most. This is likely due to the Child Care Initiative Project (CCIP), a program within R&Rs that supports providers through the licensing process, opening a family child care home business, and best business practicesⁱⁱ.

Centers

Family Child Care Homes

Overall Findings: All Participants

- Health, Safety, and Nutrition is the second most attended topic for center staff, family child care home providers, and license-exempt or pre-licensed providers. This highlights the key role that R&Rs play to ensure providers are supported in making their spaces safe and providing proper nutrition to the children in their care.
- Relationships, Interactions and Guidance was the fifth most attended topic across all groups. This topic highlights the importance of social emotional development and peer interactions in children's well-being.

i. May be duplicated if participant attended multiple trainings and workshops and/or if trainings and workshops contained multiple topics

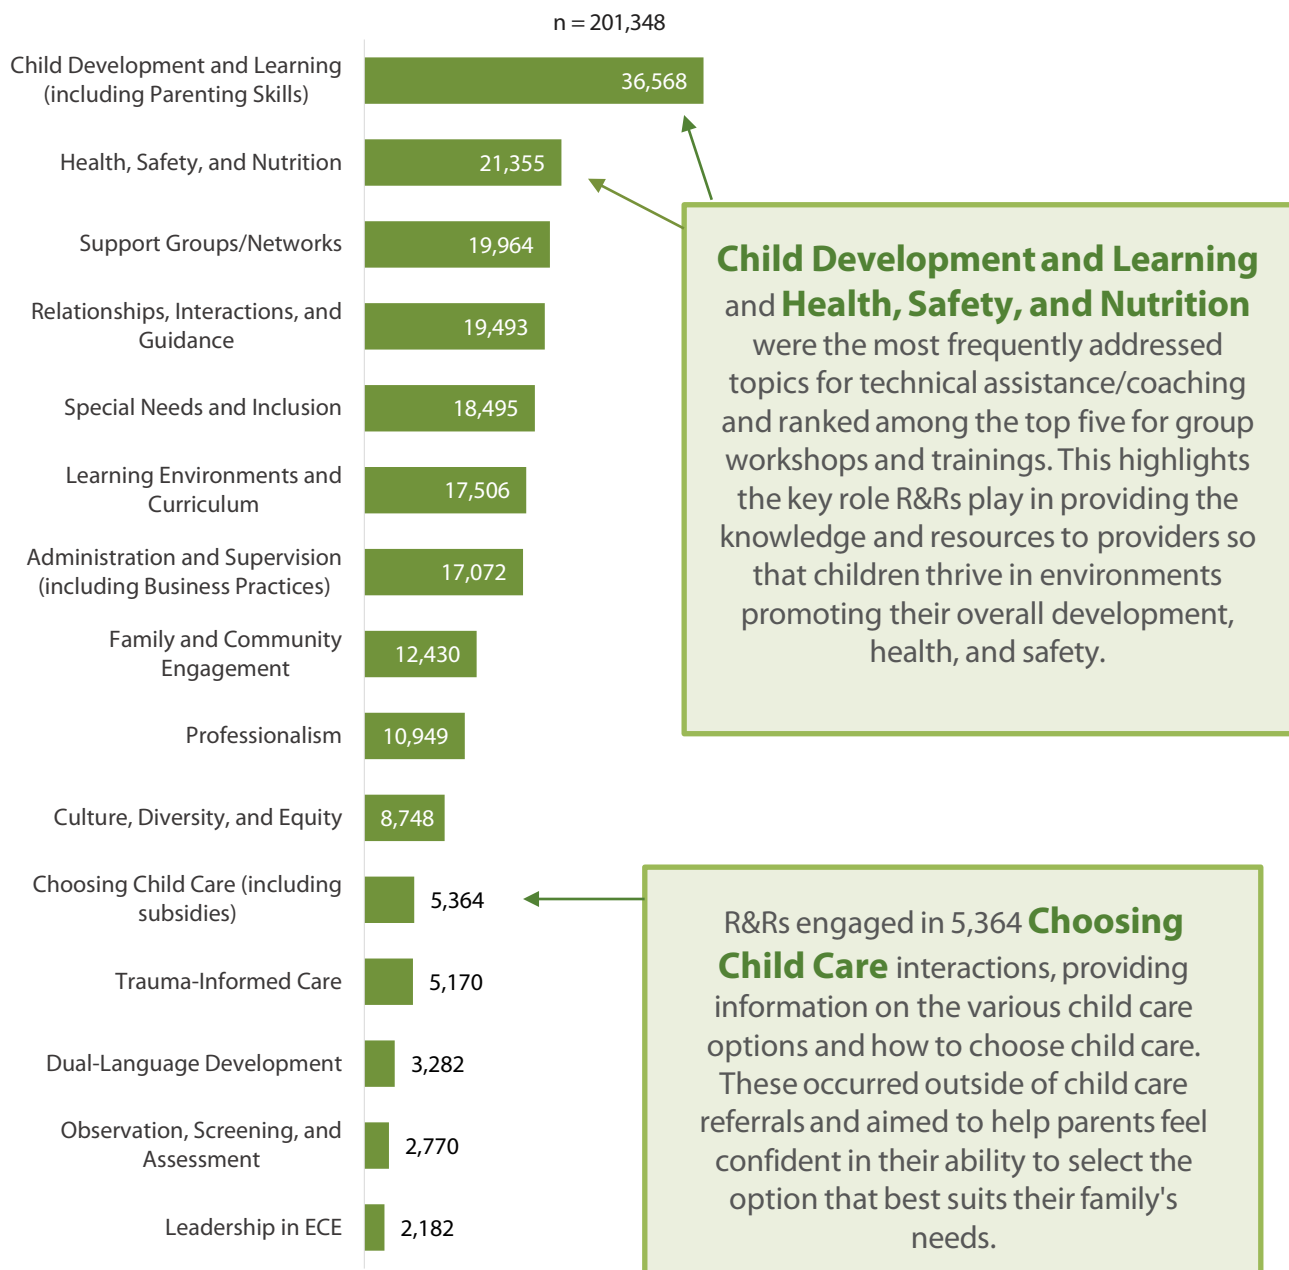

ii. The American Rescue Plan Act, ARPA, funds may have made this topic more popular as well

One-on-One Technical Assistance/Coaching

R&Rs are an important resource for parents and providers seeking one-on-one technical assistance and coaching to deepen their understanding of subjects covered in group trainings and workshops, and/or to receive situation-specific guidance. Technical assistance involves targeted support in understanding and implementing services, provided by R&Rs through email, phone, or in-person interactions. Coaching is a relationship-based process focused on goal setting and achievement.

...and offered 201,348 Technical Assistance and Coaching interactions to parents and providers.ⁱ

Impact of R&R Trainings and Workshops

Training and workshop attendees submitted evaluations. The results are summarized below.

As a direct result of the R&R's trainings and workshops:

- The vast majority of providers reported an increased understanding of child development and health and safety, were better able to implement the information, and felt more connected.
- Almost all parents reported an increased understanding of child development/parenting.
